

EQUIVALENCY

It is the intent of these specifications to allow approved equals for all materials specified where brand name, trade name, catalog reference, or patented commodity is referenced. References to such specific commodities are intended as descriptive, not restrictive, unless otherwise stated. Comparable products will be considered if proof of comparability is provided, including appropriate catalog excerpts, descriptive literature, specifications and list data, etc. The District architect/engineer's decision as to the acceptance of the product as equal will be final.
